Term of collective agreement

Extension of term of collective agreement

(2) Despite subsection (1), the parties may, in a collective agreement or otherwise and before or after the collective agreement has ceased to operate, agree to continue the operation of the collective agreement or any of its provisions for a period of less than one year while they are bargaining for its renewal with or without modifications or for a new agreement, but such continued operation does not bar an application for certification or for a declaration that the employee organization ceases to represent the members of the bargaining unit and the continuation of the collective agreement may be terminated by either party on 30 days notice to the other party. 2008, c. 15, s. 8 (2).

Early termination of collective agreements

(3) A collective agreement shall not be terminated by the parties before it ceases to operate in accordance with its provisions or this Act without the consent of the Ontario Labour Relations Board on the joint application of the parties. 2008, c. 15, s. 8 (3).

(4) Nothing in this section prevents the revision by mutual consent of the parties at any time of any provision of a collective agreement other than a provision relating to its term of operation. 2008, c. 15, s. 8 (4).

Provision against strikes and lock-outs

9. Every collective agreement shall be deemed to provide that there will be no strike or lock-out during the term of the agreement or of any renewal of the agreement. 2008, c. 15, s. 9.

Notice of execution of collective agreement

10. On the execution of a collective agreement, each party to the agreement shall forthwith give a copy of the agreement to the Minister of Labour. 2008, c. 15, s. 10.

Binding effect of collective agreement

11. A collective agreement is binding on the Council, the employers and the employee organization that is a party to it and on the members of the bargaining unit covered by the agreement. 2008, c. 15, s. 11.

Recognition provision

12. Every collective agreement is deemed to provide that the employee organization that is a party to the agreement is recognized as the exclusive bargaining agent for the bargaining unit to which the agreement applies. 2008, c. 15, s. 12.

Payment of dues to employee organization

13. (1) The parties to a collective agreement may provide for the payment of dues or contributions by the members of the bargaining unit covered by the collective agreement to the employee organization. 2008, c. 15, s. 13 (1).

(2) Where the Ontario Labour Relations Board is satisfied that an employee because of his or her religious convictions or belief objects to paying dues or contributions to an employee organization, the Ontario Labour Relations Board shall order that the provisions of the collective agreement pertaining to such payments do not apply to that employee and that the employee is not required to pay dues or contributions to the employee organization. 2008, c. 15, s. 13 (2).

Same

(3) Amounts equivalent to the payments that would have been made by the employee if an order respecting the employee had not been made under subsection (2) shall be paid by the employer to a charitable organization mutually agreed on by the employee and the employee organization and, failing agreement, to a charitable organization that is registered as a charitable organization under Part I of the Income Tax Act (Canada) and designated by the Ontario Labour Relations Board. 2008, c. 15, s. 13 (3).

Requiring membership in employee organization prohibited

(4) No collective agreement shall contain a provision that would require, as a condition of employment, membership in the employee organization. 2008, c. 15, s. 13 (4).

Arbitration provision

14. (1) Every collective agreement shall provide for the final and binding settlement by arbitration of all differences between an employer and the employee organization arising from the interpretation, application, administration or alleged contravention of the agreement, including any question as to whether a matter is arbitrable. 2008, c. 15, s. 14 (1).

Same

Where a difference arises between an employer and the employee organization relating to the interpretation, application or administration of this agreement, or where an allegation is made that this agreement has been contravened, including any question as to whether the matter is arbitrable, either the employer or the employee organization may, after exhausting any grievance procedure established by this agreement, notify the other in writing of its desire to submit the difference or allegation to arbitration and the notice shall contain the name of its appointee to an arbitration board. The recipient of the notice shall within five days inform the other either that it accepts the other's appointee as a single arbitrator or inform the other of the name of its appointee to the arbitration board. Where two appointees are so selected, they shall, within five days of the appointment of the second of them, appoint a third person who shall be the chair. If the recipient of the notice fails to appoint an arbitrator or if the two appointees fail to agree on a chair within the time limited, the appointment shall be made by the Minister of Labour on the request of either the employer or the employee organization. The single arbitrator or the arbitration board, as the case may be, shall hear and determine the difference or allegation and shall issue a decision and the decision is final and binding on the employer and the employee organization and on any employee affected by it. The decision of a majority is the decision of the arbitration board, but, if there is no majority, the decision of the chair governs. The arbitrator or arbitration board, as the case may be, shall not by his, her or its decision add to, delete from, modify or otherwise amend the provisions of this agreement.

2008, c. 15, s. 14 (2).

Where arbitration provision inadequate

(3) If, in the opinion of the Ontario Labour Relations Board, any part of the arbitration provision, including the method of appointment of the arbitrator or arbitration board, is inadequate, or if the provision set out in subsection (2) is alleged by the Council, the employer or the employee organization to be unsuitable, or if the provision refers to the College Relations Commission, the Board may, on the request of the Council, the employer or the employee organization, modify the provision so long as it conforms with subsection (1), but, until so modified, the arbitration provision in the collective agreement or in subsection (2), as the case may be, applies. 2008, c. 15, s. 14 (3).

Note: On a day to be named by proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor, subsection (3) is amended by the Statutes of Ontario, 2008, chapter 15, subsection 83 (2) by striking out "or if the provision refers to the College Relations Commission". See: 2008, c. 15, ss. 83 (2), 88 (2).

(4) Despite subsection (3), if there is failure to appoint an arbitrator or to constitute a board of arbitration under a collective agreement, the Minister of Labour, on the request of any party, may appoint the arbitrator or make the appointments that are necessary to constitute the board of arbitration, as the case may be, and any person so appointed by the Minister shall be deemed to have been appointed in accordance with the collective agreement. 2008, c. 15, s. 14 (4).

Penalty where employee disciplined, etc.

(17) Where an arbitrator or arbitration board referred to in this section determines that a disciplinary penalty or dismissal of an employee is excessive, the arbitrator or arbitration board, as the case may be, may substitute such other penalty for the discipline or dismissal as the arbitrator or arbitration board considers just and reasonable in all the circumstances. 2008, c. 15, s. 14 (17).

Decision
